- Introductions and apologies.
- CH and JL showed a video clip of the Aftershocks DVD made by California State University after the Northridge Earthquake.
- The group discussed the video and the challenges being faced by the UC Emergency Management Team, topics included:
 - How to communicate with staff and students during an emergency response
 - The emergency exercise planned for 4th July 2008, how the incident management team would work and the challenges that they might face during the response
 - The role of volunteers in the emergency exercise
 - Challenges of getting buy-in for exercises from university staff
 - Logistics of running an exercise on a busy campus
 - Possibilities for future exercises
 - Future goals of the UC Emergency Management team and the development of planning

NB. Clive Martis was unable to attend this meeting as planned to talk about his experiences at Adelaide University when their data centre flooded. This talk will be rescheduled.
